

Lutech acquires ABGAM in Spain and continues its international growth journey

The Group strengthens its Product Lifecycle Management (PLM) capabilities and consolidates its market positioning

Milan, 1 October 2026 – Lutech, an Italian leader in digital technologies and artificial intelligence, is taking another step in its international growth journey with the acquisition of ABGAM, a business unit of the SEGULA Technologies Group specialising in Product Lifecycle Management (PLM) solutions and a long-standing partner of Dassault Systèmes.

The acquisition is part of the Group's development strategy aimed at strengthening its presence in key European markets and expanding its portfolio of capabilities to support the digital transformation of businesses across Europe.

Over the years, Lutech has consolidated its growth journey through targeted investments, the integration of specialist expertise and the continuous expansion of its international presence. This latest acquisition is another important step, enabling the Group to strengthen its position in a strategic segment such as PLM.

"The acquisition of ABGAM demonstrates the strength of our growth journey and our ability to identify and integrate businesses of high strategic value, while continuing to invest in expertise, innovation and international presence, with the aim of supporting our customers even more effectively throughout their digital transformation journeys and consolidating Lutech's role as a leading European player," says Giorgio Ancona, President of Lutech Spain.

Spain is reaffirming its position as a key market in Lutech's international development strategy. Through this transaction, the Group is significantly strengthening its local presence and expanding its ability to support industrial companies in their innovation, efficiency improvement and digital transformation journeys. The investment also confirms Lutech's commitment to continuing its growth in the country, enhancing its industrial potential and contributing to the development of the local technology ecosystem.

Press Contacts

Lutech Group

Alice Di Prisco

+39-333-429-5792

alice.diprisco@lutech.it

Sara Antonelli

+39-338-615-2813

sara.antonelli@lutech.it

Lutech Group Profile

Lutech Group, a leader in Italy and a European player in digital technologies and artificial intelligence, designs, develops and manages solutions for the digital transformation, innovation and growth of companies and institutions, drawing on in-depth knowledge of the specific processes of different industries. With 6,000 professionals and revenue of €1 billion, Lutech Group drives change through an approach in which business consulting, execution and governance maximise business outcomes, offering a comprehensive and integrated proposition. Lutech expands and updates its portfolio of solutions and services through strategic acquisitions and continuous investment in people, platforms and geographic markets.

For further information, visit www.lutech.group

Press Office

Golin Ketchum: lutech@golinitaly.com / 02 89041650

Valentina Generali: vgeneral@golinitaly.com / 338 8448469

Morgana Lupica: morgana@golinitaly.com

Eugenio Giagoni: egiagoni@golinitaly.com